CANTON, MA (November 14, 2018) - It's a new day, a new look, and, most importantly, a new choice for America's espresso drinkers, as Dunkin' launches an entirely new handcrafted espresso experience and lineup of espresso drinks. With new state-of-the-art espresso equipment for optimal espresso bean extraction, a new recipe for a stronger and more robust flavor profile, and even a bold and bright new cup design, the brand that already keeps America running with great coffee is now determined to become the destination for the best lattes, cappuccinos, Americanos, macchiatos and more.

To unveil its new espresso, Dunkin' will challenge espresso drinkers that sipping is believing with six straight weeks of special espresso samplings, offers and promotions. With the launch, Dunkin' is adding two new espresso drinks to its menu for the first time, serving new Iced Cappuccino and Iced Americano. The Iced Cappuccino is brewed with freshly ground espresso beans and then blended with milk and served over ice for a refreshing, frothy and bold iced beverage. The Iced Americano blends a double shot of Dunkin's espresso with water for a refreshing, espresso-forward cup. Both will be available at participating Dunkin' locations nationwide starting Monday, November 19.

Following the company's rebranding designed to emphasize its beverage-focused strategy, the Dunkin' espresso relaunch is one of the most transformative product initiatives in the brand's recent history, including when the brand first launched espresso in 2003. Earlier this year, Dunkin' Brands announced plans to invest approximately $100 million into the Dunkin' U.S. business, more than half of which is committed to restaurant equipment, enabling the company to accelerate its beverage-led strategy, including espresso. With Dunkin' franchisees also making a substantial investment in the initiative, the brand is determined to be known for great-tasting espresso drinks and to grow its share of the hot and iced espresso category.
